> We've been using Kivi's services for about 3 years, and on multiple projects.
> He's my "go to" guy. I can't say enough about the professionalism, attention to detail, and vast technical knowledge he possesses on multiple levels.
> In addition to all the special skills he's gifted with, Kivi also gives old school customer service like I've never seen elsewhere.
> Kivi has a keen eye for design, is a master of JavaScript & several other programming languages, and has a creative/artistic way about him that allows him to use all of his skill in synergy to bring a project full circle, on time and with a high degree of professionalism. I can't say enough about Kivi Corn.
> But, if you're considering hiring Kivi for yourself, I'd like to ask you to give it a second thought because I'm selfish and would like to keep him as my own personal "secret weapon" as long as possible!!! (of course, I'm just kidding). On a serious note, word is getting out that this guy is good at what he does.
> Hire him before he's all booked up.
